Township Becomes Its Own General Contractor After Paving Company Defaults on Contract

It has taken a last minute scramble to find contractors to finish the work left by the company that defaulted on the job, but renovations to the Community Park pool parking lot are expected to be completed by Saturday in time for the opening of the pool.

According to Township Engineer Robert V. Kiser, the Township contracted with Jersey Paving Co. of Plainfield for the $200,000 job to reconfigure the lot to increase the number of parking spaces. Jersey Paving was given a deadline of May 15, with a penalty of $1,000 a day for every day thereafter that the work was not completed.

Mr. Kiser says he realized that the contractor had cash flow problems when the subcontractors called him to complain that they weren't being paid. He began making contingency arrangements for landscaping and paving materials, knowing that the Recreation Department is counting on having the lot ready on time.

An official of the insurance company which bonded the job telephoned Mr. Kiser last Thursday to tell him that Jersey Paving would not be finishing the job and was defaulting. It is the bonding company's responsibility to find other contractors to finish the work in such a situation, but in this case, with the penalty clock ticking away and Mr. Kiser in a better position to find subcontractors to complete the work, he became general contractor with the bond company's blessing.

Public Meetings Are Planned on Report Discussing Housing Conditions, Values in John-Witherspoon Area

A draft report for discussion purposes on housing rehabilitation possibilities in the Township has been completed and is available to the public.

The report was prepared by Martha Lamar & Associates, consultants to the Township Housing Board, at the request of the board and Township Committee. The research centered on the John/Witherspoon neighborhood, but according to Ms. Lamar, additional studies are planned for other areas of the Township.

The next stage will be a series of meetings with neighborhood residents at which the findings and recommendations of the draft report will be used as a starting point for discussion. The first meeting will be Tuesday, June 6, at 8 in the Valley Road building. The goal is to find solutions for upgrading housing in the neighborhood that will be effective and acceptable to all.

The study includes an analysis of housing conditions and property values in the John/Witherspoon neighborhood, where, as a press release puts it, "the rapid rise in sales prices and rents is creating problems for lower income renters and would-be owners." The study indicates that the escalation of property values has been intensified by speculation and increasing investor ownership.

The draft report recommends several municipal actions which will "help to discourage speculation, strengthen the fabric of the neighborhood, prevent further encroachments and keep the neighborhood a place where low- and moderate-income

Traffic Light at Chestnut, Street Renaming Upset Nassau Street Merchants & Residents

Several dozen merchants and residents in the east end of Nassau Street were expected to show up at the Tuesday, May 23, Borough Council meeting to raise such issues as the effects of the traffic light at Chestnut/Olden and the proposed renaming of Olden Street to Freddie Fox '39 Street.

"People in the eastern end of town are very upset about the light," said Ray Wadsworth, Borough merchant and candidate for Council in the June 6 primary. "It took spaces away and created congestion on the road."

Maria De Pinto, co-owner of Bouttonniere by Guy, said she will be at Borough Hall, "and so will a lot of other people. I hope Barbara Sigmund is ready for us."

The new traffic light has been a mess from day one, she said. "My van will be loaded and ready for delivery. I'll have to wait four, five, six lights to get out. No one stops."

Ms. De Pinto feels that merchants should have been asked if they need the light. "We're paying high rents. The purpose of the light was to help Davidson's. It doesn't help Davidson's. We want it out of here."

Jody Furch, owner of Varsity Liquors, reports that his business has gone down 40 to 42 percent in the evenings since the light was installed. The parking meters in front of his store were removed when

The proposed renaming of Olden Street to honor Freddie Fox - member of the class of 1939, a Princeton resident, and a man known as the most knowledgeable collector of Princetoniana - was scheduled to be voted on hy Council at the Tuesday night meeting

There are two streets named Olden in Princeton - Olden Street and Olden Lane -- hoth named for a family of early settlers. Responding to the possibility that confusion over the street names was a factor in the name change, Mr. Wadsworth, called it "haloney." He said he had been in the Fire Department for 25 years and never heard one person complain. He added that there are other streets in town with the same name, including Stuart and Herrontown.

"Council never went to the public on the renaming," said Mr. Wadsworth. "[Councilmen] Mark Freda and John Huntoon were against it. People came to me and I told them to get up there and speak their piece. It's an open meeting.

He added that a lot of things at the east end of town bother people. "They didn't know to express themselves. You're going to see the real Princeton

Ms. De Pinto said she was also very upset about the changing of the street name. "I believe a lot of people from the street will be there. If she [Mayor Barbara Sigmund] wants to do something with the University, do it on campus,' she said, adding, "This is not the Princeton it used to be."

Alfred Kahn owns one double house and one triple house on Olden Street. He says 30 people, mostly students, live in these houses. Other than Princeton University, Mr. Kahn is the only property owner on the street He plans to be at the Tuesday night meeting to protest the

On Thursday, if weather had not forestalled laying the final asphalt topping, the paving company is scheduled to paint the lines for the parking

Mr Kiser was able to line up Schifano Construction of Middlesex to do the remaining patching, paving and striping at a total cost of $48,000 This is the company that has just completed the repaving of The Great Road

With the help of Rick Henkel of Princeton Nurseries, he was put in touch with Herman Panacek Jr of Flemington, who pulled men off another job to complete the landscaping, including the planting of some 80 arborvitae shruhs along the fence separating the parking lot from the pool complex.

The Township had already paid Jersey Paving $85,000 but was holding off on making additional payments. Mr. Kiser estimates that about $135,000 worth of work had been completed when the contractor defaulted. Although Jersey Paving may go to court to try to collect the remaining $50,000 it would claim is owing, the Township will argue that the inconvenience caused by the default is justification for not paying that amount.

In the end, the total cost, even if it should lose the claim, will come in at about $210,000. and the additional $10,000 is covered by the $1,000 a day penalty clause To Mr. Kiser, it is 'challenges'' like these that add spice to his job as Township Engineer

Tuesday Morning Blaze Destroys Stuart Rd. Home

The rambling ranch-style home of Dr. Arthur Krosnick, 1141 Stuart Road, was totally destroyed by a fire Tuesday morning that began in the hasement when a plumber's acetylene torch backfired.

The plumber, William Cliver, 32, of Bristol, Pa., suffered hurns to his hands and hair and was taken to Princeton Medical Center where he was treated and released. Also in the home at the time were Dr. Krosnick's wife, Evelyn, and her housekeeper, Audrey Perna Neither was injured in the spectacular blaze that sent a column of dark smoke skyward

Mr. Cliver told Ptl. Gary Con over, who is investigating for Township police, that he was repairing pipes in the basement, working on a fitting, when the toreh backfired into the regulator on top of the tank. At first he tried to put the fire out by placing his hands over the regulator but it was too hot

He ran out to his truck to get a fire extinguisher but when he returned to the basement he found it totally engulfed in flames. He went to a neighbor's house and the neighbor called police at 11:21

Ptl Conover, who estimated that he was at the scene within five minutes, said that he found three-quarters of the house engulfed in flames when he arrived. He described Mr. Cliver, an employee of H & A Periotti,

Civil Rights Commission : Adopts Report's Phase I

The Joint Civil Rights Commission (JCRC) last week adopted Phase I of a selfevaluation report prepared by a committee of four JCRC commissioners. The four are Roger Martindell, Martha Hartmann, co-chairs; Beverly Schorr, and Eugene McCray.

The committee's work grew out of a suggestion last December by Township Committee liaison to the JCCR, Janet Mitchell, that the Commission embark upon a self-assessment

The first stage, which adopts a mission, goals and objectives for the JCRC, will be followed by a performance appraisal of the Commission and its staff.

Among the goals adopted by the Commission are to collect and analyze date concerning current and potential civil rights complaints and problems; to determine which complaints and problems merit priority action; to design and implement intervention strategies to conciliate conflict arising out of civil rights complaints and problems; to develop and maintain an cy and program effectiveness.

Mr. Martindell won 38 votes and Ms. Terpstra, 32. Ray Wadsworth, the third Council candidate in the primary, received eight votes.

Other Democratic candidates who won the PCDO's endorsement, for which there is no primary ballot contest, were Township Mayor Phyllis Marchand and Committeewoman Janet Mitchell, Assemblymen John Watson and Gerald Naples, Freeholder Anthony Carabelli, and Freeholdercandidate Joseph Yuhas.

Also seeking the PCDO's endorsement at the meeting were gubernatorial candidates Assemblyman Alan Karcher and Congessman James Florio, who were represented by spokeswomen.

Decision Is Reached On Cherry Hill Sewer

After a month of public discussion with the residents, many of whom were dismayed hy the costs involved and opposed to being required to connect to a sewer they feel they doa't need, Township Committee voted unanimously last Monday night to extend the public sewer line up Cherry Hill

On the same motion, Committee also voted to change the ordinance so that residents with properly functioning septic tanks may elect not to conneet to a sewer line even if it runs along the street in front of their property. As the ordinance oow stands, all property owners must connect to the public sewer if there is a line in the street. The Health Department will be the arbiter through dye testing of whether a septic system is functioning properly.

Phyllis Marchand and seconded by Deputy Mayor Kate Lit vack, was first of all to approve a bond ordinance appropriating $300,000 for the installation of some 2,100 feet of new sewerline up Cherry Hill Road. The entiren may file a civil action in new line will fill in a gap between where the present line. During the public hearing, several members of the general public urged Committee not to use Township funds to pay for part of this cost. Gerald Wright of Puritan Court told Committee that Township funds should be used for the public good and not for the benefit of individuals. "You would he starting a precedent you would have the apportunity to confirm more often than you would like," Mr. Wright remarked.

Other Business. In other business, Committee introduced an ordinance amendment making it easier for a citizen to file a complaint against someone trespassing or dumping trash on private property. The amendment was proposed by Committeeman Thomas Poole whee an old washing machine and other trash were discovered in the Institute for Advanced Study woods.

According to Township Attorney Edwin W Schmierer, The motion, made by Mayor the present ordinance only covers dumping in the public right of way, not on private property, as an offense for which a private citizen can take the oftender to municipal court Under the existing ordinance, a the State Superior Court,

"You've just set new goals, and it is inevitable you will find you are not meeting them. You need to make them more quantifiable and then a year or so down the pike see how you stack up against them. Mayor Marchand and Mrs. Litvack were concerned that postponing the next steps would mean a loss of momentum

In the end, Committee agreed that although they thought the enunciation of goals and objectives a fine first step, they would like to recommend to Borough Council that the next two stages be undertaken hy someone from the outside. Throughout the discussion, Mr. Martiadell spoke of the need to build consensus in the community about the Commission and its goals and objectives.

AT LAST — THE THRILL OF VICTORY: Until this moment, the Princeton High baseball team this season had only known the agony of 13 consecutive losses. That ended last week in this joyful celebration, after 15th seeded PHS had shocked second-seeded Hun School, 2-0, in the opening round of the Mercer County Tournament. The game was played at Mercer Park. (Story page 38)

To the Editor of Town Topics: Village Park issue.

There are several issues currently facing the residents of North Lawrence. These are:

• Village Park (a proposed behind the village of Lawrenceville bordered by Society Hill and the Estate at Lawrenceville):

· Yorkshire Village (a proposed 880-unit development on 160 acres between Mercer Mall and the D&R Canal);

400,000-square-foot office park on 147 acres on Princeton Pike opposite Fackler Road).

Notice that they are all villages. I am suspect of anything called "village." I realize that I have taken a litman [of DKM] likes the idea. Let's look at the issues.

First of all, I would offer the residents of Society Hill et al. Park on Princeton Pike, Or, Park. A fair trade? I think so. I like Leon Colavita's description of kids having fon-

A recent letter suggests putting the athletic field spending plan on the ballot in November.

I believe this would be a mistake: the companies selling equipment would arrange a tle license in calling DKM a massive public relations provillage, but I am sure Ron Bergram to guarantee that the big spending program wins. It's just like PACs in Washington. They always spend enough to get the programs they want.

Towns far bigger than a compromise, they can have Princeton (such as Plainsboro DKM, and we'll take Village and West Windsor) manage with less. Higher taxes will they can have Yorkshire merely force more and more Village and we'll take Village senior citizens, who have lived senior citizens, who have lived here all their lives, to move out.

On Need for Bike Path

The Village Park does have To the Editor of Town Topics: Following is a letter I have sent to Township Mayor

Thank you for your May 10th letter responding to my May ETS we must be concerned 3rd communication regarding The Great Road bike path and the dangers it presents.

You state that intermittent openings will be provided in the concrete barriers to permit vehicles to pull over on the Here in North Lawrence, we shoulder. Yes, six such openprivate driveways). Altogether, these openings have a com-Yorkshire Village, Maybe the bined length of 300 feet. In baseball and soccer and teonis other words, 94% of the north-- even if they are the future bound shoulder is not accessible: Just the point-I was mak-

Second, "The Great Road bike path's location is a temporary one," seems to conflict with your subsequent sentence, "If the property on the east side of The Great Road is ever developed, the developer would be required to build a Class I sidewalk ..." Isn't that a rather large "if?"

You also state that the bike path barriers have "definitely slowed the speed of cars ..." I doubt that a single highway planner in the United States could be found who would agree with your implied assumption that the way to reduce vehicle speeds is to deliberately create a physical hazard.

Last, you did not address my question relating to the usage of public property for private purposes. I'll repeat my question. We have lived on Terhune Road for many years. Does that give us the right to take five feet of Terhune Road and, at our expense, install concrete barriers to provide a bicycle path for the many children who hicycle to school?" Your an-

I hope concerned members of the community and Township Committee members will join in an effort to have the barriers permanently removed.

Although it is a bit unusual to devote part of a public highway as a marked bike path, I see nothing objectionable as long as the motorist's safety is not jeopardized.

Roger Martindell, who is a Democratic candidate for Borough Council, suggested that we might more effectively bring our concerns to Borough Council, and the media which covers Council meetings, if we could persuade Council to hold an occasional meeting at Elm Court.

I think this is a good idea, and it has the added attraction of enhancing our participation in municipal government. I also think that many Elm Court residents would enjoy attending an occasional Borough Council

What's A Wads-worth? A Lot to Borough Council

To the Editor of Town Topics: We wish to comment on the upcoming election on June 6, 1989, for the seat on Princeton Borough Council Committee:

Hooray for Ray! What's a Wads-worth? It would be a lot to Princeton Borough Council if voted in on the June 6th election. When we learned of Ray Wadworth's campaign to run for a seat on the Borough Council, we were overwhelmed with both hope and delight.

Having known Ray Wadsworth, candidate, for many years, we also know of his many voluntary efforts and contributions in and to this town; of his 'making a difference' with his many accomplishments - never stopping until his goals are reach-

We need a conscientious man like Ray Wadsworth to make this difference in this evergrowing Princeton of old, and the ever-changing new.

He has woven in and out of every nook and cranny of Princeton, knows the people and is continually on the alert for each and every aspect of its growth. Ray has been a longtime Princetonian, as has his family, he has two successful the problems caused by, first businesses here and has been a the water main installations past firechief. Street Improvements Are Urgently Needed

To the Editor, Town Topics: Princeton Borough's urgently needed street improvements necessarily involve temporary inconvenience to consumers who like to shop in downtown Princeton.

However, when these improvements involve shutting down the only downtown bypass around Nassau Street's bumper-to-bumper traffic, a decent regard for the public interest would seem to suggest that the needed work be completed with all due deliberate speed.

In the absence of any substantial visible progress in the now month-old Wiggins Street excavations, and with the Borough police having "no idea" when Wiggins Street will be re-opened to traffic, it appears that the public interest is being subordinated to the convenience of the street improvement contracts.

Is anybody at Borough Hall paying attention? Joseph M. Boyd

President Consumer Bureau

It would seem that the first place to begin would be with the Mayor and Council members themselves.

Let them put in some hard work. Let them plan, reorganize and address their own deficiencies, then let them evaluate Mr. Gordon's performance properly.

And Ms. Mackenzie's other suggestion, to create another administrative position at a cost of some $70,000 or $80,000 per year (with benefits) strikes me as another example of what is too often a knee-jerk, Democratic solution to a problem: Throw some money at it and maybe it will go away, unless it has been debated to death. (Subtext: Have a study done, at great cost, and then throw more money at it, while continuing the debate.)

It's clear that Ms. Mackenzie was frustrated by the impossibility of dealing with these questions properly — with the Mayor and Council, and I applaud her independence and courage in making her frustration public. But I deplore the public call to fire Mr. Gordon. It's not a fair and honorable way to treat an honorable per-

In his job for 25 years as construction foreman, he managed people and got things done. For the past five years he, with his family, has run not one but two successful local businesses. Ray is a doer, not a debater. His presence in Borough Hall his practicality, his hands-on, life experiences, his nononsense management ability will help get things done right in our community

I hope all of us, Ray's Borough neighbors, will demonstrate our appreciation for all he's done so far, show our confidence in him, and vote for Ray Wadsworth in the Democratic Primary on June 6. NANCY BROWDER

Repko says there had been a hiring freeze which prevented the department from hiring the personnel it needed.

'I didn't want to spend my time filling in the blanks of the contracts," Ms. Repko says of a job she felt could be done by someone less experienced. "I wanted to be spending more time in actually giving technical assistance. To produce housing of any kind in New Jersey is a difficult job, and very time consuming.

She says she feels the Town-ship job will be "infinitely more exciting and more productive" than the State job. She adds, "I am looking forward to overseeing the housing projects on an ongoing basis, to the units as they're being occupied, and to being more 'hands-on' on a dayto-day basis." The Township has recently approved the allocation of $20,000 from the Housing Fund for a revolving down-payment assistance program, as well as the first recipient, the prospective purchaser of one of the Griggs Farms Mt Laurel units.

Overseeing this program, as well as other revolving funds which may be set up, will also be part of Ms. Repko's responsibilities. One of her initial tasks this summer is to write an application for a Small Cities grant for housing rehabilitation. Meanwhile she will set up meetings with residents of the John-Witherspoon neighhorhood in regard to housing rehabilitation.

The opening of a new concert hall carries with it the excitement of hearing music in a new space, and the hope of area ensembles that this new location will be "just right" for

In the case of the Frank E. Taplin Auditorium in Fine Hall off Washington Road on the Princeton University campus, it is a space badly needed. Taplin Hall is a small recital hall with a seating capacity of 210, comfortable and acoustically sound. Concerts in the hall this past week have featured a number of Princeton University artists, including a very well-attended program last Saturday night of music by Princeton University faculty members.

Princeton University's Music Department has long been known for emphasis on composition. The evolution of the department's applied music programs has provided a base of fine performers to present the music of the department faculty Saturday's concert featured music of four faculty members representing diverse composition styles.

> Music of Mackey & Lansky. The second half of the program was devoted to the music of Steve Mackey and Paul Lansky. Dr. Mackey's Moebius Bond is based on a rather fantastic story by Dionys Burger. The piece is scored for soprano and a variety of instruments, synthesizer, brass and strings. This work was conducted by Robert Sadin, who kept a steady and clear beat, keeping the two percussionists in unison.

> Several instrumentalists deserve commendation for their performance of this piece. Flutist Judith Pearce shifted admirably among at least two flutes and a piccolo, and keyboard artist Elizabeth DeFelice provided remarkable accompaniment on the piano and synthesizer. Soprano Paula O'Buckley performed in a variety of vocal styles, including with empty glass bottles. At times it was difficult to discern the vocal line from the instrumental line, adding to the overall color of the work.

At one point during the piece the lights dimmed completely and most of the players left the stage, leaving one to wonder if this was a modern-day rendition of the Farewell Symphony. Only cellist and soprano were left onstage, computerized pitches drifted out of the air,

IT'S NEW To Us

Array of Cotton Fashion Highlights Chez Charisma

What I really want to stress is that we hope to make shopping here fun. We want to pamper our customers - not aggressively, but earingly. We want them to feel at home with us "Glenna Ward, co-owner of Chez Charisma at 173 Nassau Street, is enthusiastic about the new fashion boutique. "We feel very optimistic. Lots of people have come in already. It's a good location and a busy area "

Adds her daughter and co-owner Kelly Ward, "There is so much I enjoy about the work. I like working with people and helping them to look their best. I love to see people look well in something. And also, I want people to know we'll be honest with them. They can count on us for an honest opinion if they ask us. We'll help them all we can, and if they just feel like browsing, that's fine, too.'

Chez Charisma opened its doors for the first time last week in the location previously occupied by La Shack, Marie Moffett, former manager of La Shack, is now buyer and manager of the new boutique which features cotton and rayon fashion. "Many of our customers are former customers of La ture we've been involved in

Miss Ward adds. "The parent corporation is Ward Enterprises, and my father is president. The circumstances all came together to open Chez Charisma We met Marie, the decided to do it. sweaters, blouses, skirts, pants, shorts and jackets, as well as such accessories as hats, belts, scarves and jewelry, are all available at the new shop. "The idea to feature cotton was Marie's, ' explains Miss Ward, "In working at La Shack, she found that cottons were what people really wanted. She always thought a store empahsizing cotton would

'Also, we feel our clothes are universal," she adds. "Most of our clothes can be worn by a woman of any age Many of the outfits are very feminine, and we also have a lot of resort-type clothing. We've tried to earry this theme through in our atmostphere, too We were looking for a Palm Beach type feeling. The dressing rooms are like cabanas.

Bright Colors. Both imports and American-made clothes are featured at Chez Charisma "We have a lot of bright colors," notes Miss Ward, "such as fuchsia, pink, lavender and purple. There are also a lot of bright floral prints and a nice variety of sweaters in different styles.

Glenna Ward, a former schoolteacher, who has always enjoyed designing clothes and sewing, believes that the extensive line of separates at Chez Charisma offers a great opportunity for coordinating and mixing and matching. "There are so many possibilities with the jackets, tops, skirts and pants. We also have a variety of wonderful camisoles, and the material of our clothing is so light you hardly feel you have anything one.

"I think someone could shop in here," she continues, "and go away for three weeks, even a month, and with mixing and matching and coordinating, probably live out of one suitcase and not feel that she was seeing the same outfit over. I'm going to Hawaii and am definitely going to coordinate my outfits. I aim to have just one suitcase and cosmetic case, and of course, I've done all my shopping here.

"I've always been so conscious of being petite," she adds. "I've tended to stay in monotones, but now Marie has showed me new ways of dressing with hats and prints that I had never tried before. Another thing I'd like to mention is that many of our hats are very phable. They're great for packing. You can crush them down, and they'll spring right back. We also have a very nice selection of Moroccan leather belts, as well as obi sashes. Prices at Chez Charism cover a wide range. Hats start at $26, cotton searves at $28 and jewelry begins at $12. Moroccan belts are $45 and obi sashes $10. Dresses are $69 and up, pants start at $33, camisoles are $38 and skirts $56. Gift certificates and gift wrapping are also available

Both Glenna Ward and Kelly Ward are looking forward to welcoming customers to the new boutique. Shoppers will enjoy the attractive congenial atmosphere. With its white wicker furniture and bright col-

And, as Mrs. Ward says, "Wel hope people will come in to see us and see what we have. I've shopped a lot - my husband thinks that's my middle name and in some stores, the sales people ignore customers or else they are too pushy. In our shop, location was available, and we most of all, we want our eustomers to feel comfortable Also, I really think Marie has done an outstanding job of presenting the clothing here so that people can get a good idea of what is available

Quality Duplicating At Triangle Reprocenter

"Our business is service, quality and speed," says Bill Howard, owner and manager of Triangle Reprocenter at 49 Hulfish Street. After 10 years just down the street, the copy center moved to its new location in March. "Before that, we were on Chambers Street for 24 years," recalls Mr. Howard. who became owner of the franchise in 1984.

"Triangle Reprocenter is 50 years old," he adds. "We have 11 locations — it will be 13 by the end of the year - and we are number 27 worldwide in duplicating sales. Our services include duplicating for business and offices, as well as individuals. We also do engineering photocopying. We can make a photo copy three feet wide by 400 feet long if necessary We did one 70 feet for RCA.

'We also provide bindings, and we carry office supplies, such as pads, folders, envelopes, paper clips, etc., as a convenience for our customers. In addition, we are a Western Union agent and we deliver telegrams.

Triangle Reprocenter's reputation for quality first attracted Mr. Howard to the business. "Prior to 1984, I owned a limousine company in Philadelphia. I was looking for another business, however, and I knew of Triangle. I also knew franchising, so it was a natural combination. Triangle is a very solid company. Harvard Dashes Hopes Of 2 Tiger Women Teams

The dream is over for the Princeton University women's lacrosse team. After rolling through a record-breaking 13-2 regular season, and disposing of Virginia in the first round of the NCAA tournament, the Tigers met their match in last Saturday's national semifinal, falling to Harvard for the second time this season, 7-5

With the comeback triumph at West Chester, Pa., the thenunbeaten Crimson advanced into Sunday's national championship game against top-ranked Penn State, a 9-3 winner over Temple in the other semifinal The Nittany Lions - whose only regular-season loss was a 12-10 setback at Princeton - dashed Harvard's hopes for its first-ever national title, however, bolting to a 6-3 halftime lead and holding on for a narrow 7-6

It took all of 23 seconds for the Tiger laxwomen to draw first blood in Saturday's semifinal, as attacker Phyllis Fogarty cashed in an assist from leading scorer Kristen Mautner for a 1-0 lead. Harvard's Julie Clifford quickly tied the game, but goals by midfielder Sara Slattery and defenseman Eleanor Tydings gave the Tigers a surprising 3-1 advantage midway through the first half

Then Harvard's vaunted attack shifted into high gear Julia French and Lisi Balhere fired in goals a scant 11 seconds apart to knot the score at 3-3, and a free-position tally by Karen Everling just before halftime provided the Crimson with a 4-3 edge at intermission.

25 Shots, Five Goals, While the Tigers, who converted only five of 25 shots on goal all day, struggled on attack after the half, Harvard padded its lead. Scores by Clifford and Charlotte Joslin made it 6-3 with six minutes elapsed in the second stanza. Sarah Helm finally broke the drought for Princeton, tallying with 9:27 left to play to cut it to 6-4.

The Tigers thought they had shaved the lead to one, 212 minutes later, as attacker Jill Forney took a Helm pass and rifled it past goalie Kelly Dermody into the net. The goal was nullified, however, by a controversial in-the-crease penalty against Forney

Princeton eventually did narrow the margin to 6.5 when, with 3:25 remaining, Maother scored her first goal of the afternoon But with 1:45 to go and the defense overplaying her, Harvard's Jennifer Walser broke free for the goal that hroke the Tigers' hacks.

The Tigers, who got a whopping 17 saves from goalie Demer Holleran on her final collegiate game, thus finish the 1989 season with a 14-3 overall record, 5-1 in the Ivy League. With all but three starters returning next spring, expect bigger and even hetter things from Coach Chris Sailer's squad in the future.

PHS Nine Wins First But Then Loses Again

Like Camelot, the Princeton High baseball team has had its one oriet shining moment.

That exhilarating moment came at Mercer Park last week when PHS, behind the one-hit pitching of Luis Estrada, shocked Hun School, 2-0, to chiminate the highly-favored Raiders from the Mercer County Tournament

As the game wore on the mood was electric around the PHS dugout. One player told first-year coach Larry Mansier that he could feel himself tingling with excitement as Hun took its last at bats. The 0-13 Little Tigers had never been this close before

It is said that Estrada likes to pitch in warm weather. If it was 60, he wanted it to be 70. If it was 70, he preferred 80. It was not Thursday afternoon and Estrada was hotter

He did not allow a single hit until two down in the sixth, when Hun's Matt Hyldahl singled sharply up the middle. But There's one baseball record that few fans appreciate - but the more you think about it the more amazing it becomes ... That's the record for most games won by a pitcher in big league history, set by Cy Young, who won 511 games in his career in the early 1900s ... Now to appreciate how hard it is to win 511 games, consider this: It's difficult for any pitcher to win 20 games in any one year; few pitchers ever win 20 games in 3 or 4 or 5 different seasons, but to win 511 games, as Cy Young did, you'd have to AVERAGE OVER 20 WINS A YEAR, EVERY YEAR FOR FIVE YEARS! ... That's why that's an amazing record and why no one else has ever come close.

The Aetna's Nursing Home Policy and Medicare are together, just like New Jersey and you!

Even though the second baseman and shortstop in baseball both play about the same distance from second base, why is one called a second basemen and the other called a shortstop? Many years ago, the first, second, and third basemen played right at their bases ... In those days the shortstop played as a rover in the shallow - or SHORT part of the outfield ... Thus he was called a "shortstop" ... Later when the basemen moved away from their bases to cover more ground, shortstop was brought to the infield to play the other side of second hase from the second baseman, but kept Princeton's big three of Nick Record Inches to 5-7 Leschly, Marc Glogoff and Dan Horowitz were overpowering. Undefeated as a sophomore, Leschly ran his junior year record to 17-0 with a 6-0, 6-0 triumph over the shore team's Chad Aaron. Glogoff won, 6-1, 6-1, while Horowitz, like Leschly, blanked his third singles opponent, Shawn Jacob-

At second doubles, George Khalaf and Matt Goida also had an easy time, winning 6-1, 6-0. Princeton's Dave Williams and Seth Socolow breezed to a 6-0 win in the first set of their first doubles match, but lost the next two, 5-7, 4-6.

In a regular season match on Thursday, PHS routed Hopewell Valley, 5-0.

Leschly blanked Craig Braswell, Glogoff handled Tom Reger, 6-0, 6-2, and Horowitz breezed past Jason Denechaud. 6-1, 6-2. Williams and Socolow won a three-setter over Aaron Seaford and Pete Horvath, while Khalal and Goida took the measure of Todd Williver and Mike Midura, 6-1, 6-0.

PHS Netmen Win Again In Central II Tourney

Third-seeded Princeton High School has advanced to the finals of the NJSIAA Central Jersey Group II tournament with a 4-1 victory Monday over previously-unbeaten Bridgewater West. The Little Tigers will play the winner of the Rumson-Fair Haven and Ridge semi-final later this week at a neutral site for the Central Jersey Group II title.

PHS entered its match with Bridgewater with a 17-1 record; Bridgewater was 18-0. The outcome was not as one-sided as the final score might indicate, though, because both Marc Glogoff and Dan Hornwitz, Princeton's second and third singles players, had split their first two sets.

Princeton's unbeaten Nick Leschly got PHS off the mark with a 6-0, 6-1 victory at first singles and the PHS first doubles of Dave Williams and Seth Socolow won, 6-4, 6-4.

Glogoff won his first set, 6-3, but then lost the second, 1-6. The PHS senior, who says he thrives on pressure, proved it by coming back to win the third set 6-4, raising his record to 18-1. "I never give up," said Glogoff.

Horowitz was in a reverse position at third singles. He lost the first set, 4-6, to the Golden Falcons' Jay Butchko but rallied to win the next two, 6-2,

Bridgewater's only victory came at second doubles, where Ron Monton and Dan Jakovich defeated Princeton's Matt Goida and George Khalaf, 6-1, Princeton's lone setback this season has been a regularseason loss to The Lawrenceville School.

During the weekend, Hun defeated a Hun alumni team, 6-"A fun day, it was good for the kids," said McQuade.

One of the alumni was Tim Landis, a former standout baseball player and football quarterback for the Raiders and now football and baseball coach at Morrisville High (Pa.). "Would you like to play a game?" Landis asked his former coach "Sure," Mc-Quade replied

PDS Lacrosse Ends 9-6 With Pair of Victories

The disappointment of the Prep B finals earlier in the week was nowhere in evidence last Friday and Saturday for the Princeton Day boys' lacrosse team

The Panthers smashed a pair after that of opponents, Midwood High School (12-0) on Friday and to finish 9-6 on the season. That's quite a turnaround from ago, and a nice plus for coach all scored. Steve Czelusniak.

He took over the coaching reins a year ago, and suffered through that winless season along with his players. This year, the school dropped back to the Prep B level, a wise move for all concerned, and proved it is much better to compete at the top of the B division than the bottom of the A. PDS is a Prep B team in all other boys' sports, and it makes sense to be one in lacrosse, too.

Friday's contest against Midwood High School pitted the Panthers against a Brooklyn high school that is just learning the sport. The coach is a friend of Czelusniak's, and the game was scheduled for that reason.

PDS had no trouble with the visitors, led by Chris Lake and and Andy Dykstra, who scored three goals apiece. Jeff Zawadsky and Campbell Levy had two each, and Jamie Simpson and Steve Eaton added single tallies. Steve Fulmer, Judd Henderson and Rob Hall shared the time in goal.

the first period, before allowing Saddle River its first goal midway through the first period. PDS then scored three more. and led 5-1 in the second quarter when the visitors scored their final goal of the afternoon.

> Noting the slow start to the season when PDS lost four of its first five, Czelusniak commented his boys have steadily improved all season. He cited one goal in the Saddle River game just before halftime that demnnstrated the teamwork the players learned. Jon Trend picked up a loose ball near midfield after a faceoff and passed to Zawadsky. His pass found Dykstra at the point Dykstra who would have had a decent shot, spotted Altman near the Ackley, Jane Felton, and Kate crease, and fed him the hall for an easy goal.

With a strong nucleus of players returning. PDS should challenge for the Prep title again next year. Midfield will be the hardest hit by graduation with tri-captains Zawadsky and Rnyal leaving, plus Simp-

Will Fisher, the other tricaptain, who anchored the defense, will also depart, as will Fulmer, the first-string goalie. Dykstra will leave a big hole to be filled on attack

Girls' Lacrosse Loses 12, Kim Bedesem's girls' lacrosse team, that came within a whisker of reaching the Prep A finals, will lose 12 players, four of whom were key to the team's success. These include tricaptains Carrie Regan, Maureen Cahill and Alicia Collins and Ani Tilden. In particular Bedesem praised Regan and Collins as the two who will be hardest to replace.

Other departing seniors include Jenny Thurman, Chris Frank, Casey Sheldon, Angela Travers, Susan Lebovitz, Sarah

That's a lot to replace but Bedesem will have her two big guns on offense, Liz Bylin and Jenny Myers, to count on next year. Nika Skvir will have had a year of experience in goal to help her, and there are other experienced returnees in Julie Howard, Kysha White, Edith Roberts and Janice Abud.

Firm Wins Commission From Stockton College

The architectural firm of Geddes Brecher Qualls Cunningham (GBQC) has been commissioned to develop the new master plan for Stockton State College near Atlantic City

In 1969, Stockton was planned and designed from scratch by GBQC, working in close collaboration with college administrators. In the past two decades, enrollment of the fouryear liberal arts college has expanded beyond original estimates, and GBQC has been hired to update the master plan and prepare planning documents for new building projects.

Sited on a 1600-acre tract within the fragile ecology of the New Jersey Pine Barrens, Stockton State College was originally planned by GBQC to touch the site as lightly as possible and leave the wilderness largely undisturbed. The current challenge facthe ecological regulations set 5000 in the future.

The campus master plan will include an inventory of existing campus expansion, and the estimated cost of expansion

Indian Spring Farm

Of these 80 beautiful acres in the rolling countryside of West Amwell, 50 are under cultivation, 20 are wooded and 10 provide a magnificent setting for this authentic Colonial farmhouse. Sweeping lawns, specimen trees, flowering plantings and a rippling brook are enhanced by a view of distant hills. Peter Fisher built the house in 1741 as verified by his name and date carved in a corner stone of a fireplace. His deed to the land was dated 1729 and signed by the mark of an Indian Chief. The hall opens to a gracious living room with massive stone walk-in fireplace. The dining room also has a huge walk-in stone fireplace and a beamed ceiling. The country kitchen is charming with pine cabinets. "As real estate values rise in an area, investors look for lower-priced properties to invest in for speculative purposes. This speculation can have rather devastating effects on lower income neighborhoods in terms of displacement of traditional residents and disruption of the neighborhood's social cohesion.'

One of the "devastating effects" mentioned is an increase in property taxes when reassessment occurs. This in turn forces lower income people out. In addition, escalating property values entice long-term residents to sell to investors willing to pay high prices and thus home ownership diminishes. Single family homes, which just a few years ago were owner occupied, become investor-owned rental properties.

More roomers and renters in the neighborhood represents a change in the traditional ratio. Rents rise as investors seek to make immediate profits on these properties, and longtime renters are forced out

Overcrowding and a more transitory population is another result cited in the report, along with a deterioration in the general condition and appearance of the neighborhood. Homes are bought up for commercial purposes, and longtime residents "become discouraged," as the report puts it.

There are 170 buildings conaining 234 residential units in the study area, which includes Birch Avenue, the Township portion of Leigh Avenue, and Witherspoon Street from the Borough line to Valley Road. The count did not include the Princeton Medical Center buildings, the Valley Road building or Morning Star Church. The study states that approximately 76 of the 170 buildings are partially or totally investor-owned, with 136 known rental units within the 76 buildings

Twenty-nine of the 136 rental units are single family houses, 46 are rental units in duplex houses, 43 are other types of residential units, and 18 are commercial/office units. The survey found 76 singlefamily houses in the neighbor-ple together. The report suggests that the best way to implement the programs described is through a neighborhood-based, non-profit organization, such as the hood which are owner occupied.

Of the 170 buildings in the survey area, the total number of row or duplex structures is 32. Twenty-two of the duplex units were found to be owneroccupied, 46 rental.

Ms. Lamar and an associate, Susan Repko, conducted a building by building survey of the neighborhood. They also held discussions with residents, researched Township records, including tax rolls and rental registrations to determine types of ownership, and conducted real estate research of recent sales and current asking prices and rents.

Poor Exterior Condition. Of 34 buildings which were noted for poor exterior condition, 23 turned out to be investorowned. There are approximately 35 senior citizen homeowners in the neighborhood and at least seven of them live in houses that are in need of serious repairs, the report states.

A key recommendation, therefore, is for the Township to make six-year, low-interest, deferred payment loans of up to $15,000 to these homeowners. The loan and interest would be repaid when the house is sold, and the Township would have right of first refusal at the sale.

Funds for these loans could come from State as well as municipal sources and would supplement the $5,000 grants made under the Neighborhood Preservation Program which is already in place, operating from Borough Hall under Louise Stephenson-Shaw. This approach is particularly recommended in light of the fact that acquistion and rehab for either sale or rental will be very expensive for the Township, given the escalating property values in the area.

The report includes a list of sales of 13 anonymous properties in the area in 1986, '87 and '88, giving the sales price and price per square foot. A second chart lists the rent levels and asking price of 14 properties that were for sale last August-September.

The sales price per square foot has been rising each year and ranged in 1986 from $86 to $115 per square foot; in 1987 from $79 to $132. Last August and September, there were more than 20 properties for sale in the neighborhood, some with asking prices as high as $164 and $200 a square foot.

Rent levels ranged from $720 to $1200 per month for single family homes and from $400 to $675 for one-bedroom apartments.

'People Power.' In a section entitled "Implementation," the report states: "In order to counter the market forces which are at work and reclaim the neighborhood for the residents, it will be necessary to find a way to combine many different resources and focus

> Greater Impact. "If this could be done in conjunction with similar programs in the Borough, the impact would be even greater. By proceeding carefully, building consensus, purchasing key buildings as they come on the market, helping homeowners with small deferred loans, the Township could make an important difference in the future of this neighborhood and the lives of its residents," the report con-

Ms. Lamar, the author of the report, heads a small planning and housing and consulting firm in Lawrenceville. Her palities and non-profit housing organizations, and she has been involved in housing issues in clients are primarily municifor the past 17 years.

Copies of the report are available at the office of the Township Housing Manager, Susan Repko, in the Valley Road building, and also at the Public Library and at the Neighborhood Preservation Program office of Louise Stephenson-Shaw in Borough Hall.
